DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abel et al.

Abel shows the method and apparatus for detecting surroundings by means of an automotive night vision system.

Abel provides for high beam and low beam areas of monitoring, col. 3, lines 13-25.

Abel does not state that an area of representation comprises at most the high beam area of the vehicle.

Abel clearly provides for high beam area monitoring as stated above.

Abel clearly states that the light source 9 serves to illuminate a visual field 10 in front of the vehicle, col. 3, lines 17 and 18.

Abel states that the night vision device 20 can be additionally switched on to enlarge the visual field 10, the depth of the visual 10 is extended extend, col. 3, lines 19-25.

Accordingly, the claimed "area of representation comprises at most the high beam area of the vehicle" is obvious over the high beam area of illumination in Abel which may include most of the high beam area, due to such extension

With respect to claim 2, see evaluation area 10.

With respect to claim 3, "a tolerance area adjoins the area of representation" is analogous to the visual field 10 being enlarged and thus extending the area of representation. The extension of area 10 is analogous to the tolerance area.

With respect to claims 4 and 5, see high beam and low beam in col. 3, lines 13-18.

With respect to claims 6-8, see optical representation such as display of visual field by display 3.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Burley et al, Strumolo et al, and Janssen shows related night vision systems..
